A 50drx of 1876 recently sold for a record price of 160,000EUR and gained worldwide press coverage (<https://www.kathimerini.gr/culture/561605728/korona-i-grammata/>).

Attica Auctions has its headquarters in Athens, Greece but also operates from Switzerland and London. Nicholas would be very happy to undertake a valuation of any items you or any friends may have in the field of numismatics, banknotes, medals and memorabilia. He holds regular auctions in Athens, Zurich and London and would be happy to discuss the potential options available, either in auction or private treaty. Please feel free to email him for further details on his scheduled visit to South America and to organise an appointment in any of the locations or your preferred address.
